

TO DISCUSS REFUND ON FOREIGN LOANS

House Committee Would Know
Glass' Authority for Deferring Payments.

Terms and conditions of the refunding of the interest on foreign loans made by this country during the war will be discussed, it is expected, at a meeting today by the House Ways and Means Committee with Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass.

The total of these loans is now nearly $10,000,000,000, and the interest on them is approximately $450,000,000 annually. The foreign governments have made representations to this Government for the deferring of interest payments for a period of years, during which the reconstruction work can go on with greatest rapidity in the war devastated countries.

Tentative arrangements have been entered into with these countries by Secretary Glass waiving payment for the present year of this interest and providing for its refunding by the debtor countries.

Probe Glass' Right.

Members of the Ways and Means Committee will not attempt to disarrange the agreements entered into by the Secretary. They are desirous to ascertain under what legal authority the Secretary had to make the arrangement without authority from Congress, in view of the fact that the foreign loan authorization was for a total of $10,000,000,000, while the refunding operations will increase this amount.

They want to learn, also, for how long a period this refunding is to go on. With the payment of the interest on these loans taxes could be reduced soon in this country.

Must Aid Starving.

While the committee has announced an attitude of opposition to any additional foreign loans, Secretary Glass is expected today to urge a reconsideration of this policy to the extent of making preparations for some small loans and extensions of credits

TEACHERS DON TIGHTS TO BEAT LOW SALARIES

Chicago Finds Many Joining Chorus
With School Jobs
Unprofitable.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Low salaries are driving school teachers to the pink tights and bare legs of the chorus. William T. McCoy, chairman of a teachers' committee seeking increased pay envelopes, declared today.

"Interesting it is true," commented Superintendent Mortenson of the Chicago schools.

"This made it necessary to grab the old lantern and staff and go forth in search of the truth.

Exhibit A—In the front row of a glittering spectacle advertised as a "national institution" is a dimpled-kneed young lady named Irene Bennett who used to teach school at Ugentown, Pa. She proved it by dragging a certificate out of her trunk.

"But never again," she averred.

"Why, I make $50 a week for simply looking nice. Maybe I don't earn it, but I get it. And that is reverse English on the school teacher's problem. She earns four times what she gets."

Exhibit B—In a burlesque show that is "back in" here this week are three former school teachers, long past the "flapper" age, but who still shake a wicked spear. They introduced enough names, places and miscellaneous data to prove their former occupations before any twelve good men and true.

"Teach school again?" queried one.

"The very idea. Dearly, I don't look as stupid as you are. With forty weeks solid and $35 every Saturday night, why, I simply couldn't afford it. Let somebody else worry about Willie's dirty neck and who was the man who discovered the equator."

Five more were discovered dancing and singing in Chicago hotels and cabarets without any trouble at all.

"I'd like to teach," said one, "but I need more money. If they won't pay for what I know and would rather pay me three times as much for singing four songs every night, why, I'm agreeable."

Births, Marriages, Deaths

MRS. VIRGINIA KIRBY, 84,
NATIVE OF D.C., BURIED

Widow of Large Landowner Succumbed After Illness of One Week.

Funeral services for Mrs. Virginia Kirby, eighty-four years old, one of the oldest residents of the District, who died yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William J. Bacon, 1301 Emerson street northwest, after a week's illness, were held from her daughter's residence this morning.

Mrs. Kirby was born in Washington in 1836 and had lived here all her life. She is the widow of Gilman Kirby for a long time one of the largest landowners in the District. Among her possessions was the block bounded by Seventh, Eighth, D and E streets northwest.

She is survived by three daughters and a son. Her husband was in the Glenwood Cemetery.

MAJ. ESTES PAINE.

Funeral services for Major Estes Paine, who died yesterday at Walter Reed Hospital as the result of injuries received in France, were held at the hospital this afternoon. Burial was in Arlington Cemetery.

NEWS OF ALEXANDRIA AND NEARBY VIRGINIA

Shipbuilding Company Launches the Vessel Clemence C. Morse Before Notable Gathering.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Jan. 10.—Before a crowd which filled the shipyard and the streets adjoining it the Clemence C. Morse glided into the water off the ways this morning without a hitch. This is the sixth ship to be launched at the yards of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, here, since it was built not quite two years ago.

As the ship glided into the water Mrs. Morse, wife of Charles W. Morse, president of the United States Shipbuilding Corporation, and chairman of the board of directors of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, stood at the bow of the ship and broke a bottle of wine over it, saying, "I name this Clemence C. Morse."

The new boat is a 9,400-ton steel freighter, and will, like her sister ships, be used on ocean travel.

Among the guests at the launching were number of Government officials and members of the United States Shipping Board. Following the launching a buffet luncheon was served in the administration building.

After the launching the ship was moved from work at 10 o'clock and witnessed the launching.

The Belgian cabinet has approved the floating of a popular loan of 2,500,000 francs, payable in seventy-five years, at 3 per cent, the State Department was advised yesterday from Brussels.

The loan, which will be submitted soon to the Belgian parliament, will carry a sur-premium of 50 per cent, and the interest of 30 francs will be paid for a 500-franc bond.

THE TITANIC RECALLS TITANIC

"Dr. X" Shows Skill in Medicine and Surgery—Thinks He Went to Oxford.

LAMBERTVILLE, N. J., Jan. 10.—A man who does not know his own name, who has christened himself "Dr. X," and who retains but hazy and indistinct memories of his life and events since the sinking of the Titanic is staying at the home here of the Rev. J. T. Bensley.

The stranger, who was found wandering in rage and babbling childishly near this city on December 22, is a cultured Englishman, versed in medicine and surgery, learned in research work and music. Attracted by the man's evident culture, Dr. Bensley, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, took him to his home from the city jail, where he was being detained.

THINKS HE ATTENDED OXFORD.

"Dr. X" said in an interview tonight: "I should say that I am a native of England—that's certain. That I attended Oxford—that's certain. That I have had English church experience—that is most certain. That there is a strong presumption that my early life was spent in Mississippi."

How long he has been suffering in this manner, whence he came and through what experiences he went before being found on the debris of the town "watching a sunset" the man says he cannot remember.

While being questioned by Dr. Bensley the man pointed to a picture of the president Wilson and asked who it was.

"I remember when President McKinley was shot and Roosevelt became President, and then I remember McKinley was shot," he said.

"Do you remember when he died?" he was asked.

"No," replied the man of mystery quickly, "is he dead?"

When asked if the aphasia victim had heard of the war when Dr. Bensley told him about it, and he appeared startled when he learned that Germany was a republic. He jumped out of his chair excitedly and said, "What?"

"Dr. X" recalled vividly the tragedy of the sinking of the Titanic in 1912, but he is positive, however, that he was not a passenger on the vessel.

When asked if he had a wife, the stranger answered: "I have no recollection of any; probably I have none."

Dr. Bensley, an Englishman and graduate of Oxford, said that he believed that Dr. X attended Oxford in the eighties and that he probably graduated about 1885 or 1886.

PLAYS CHURCH ORGAN.

The first day at the rectory the man saw the piano and he sat down and began to play. He was nervous, Dr. Bensley said, and moved his feet repeatedly as if searching for pedal notes. When taken into the church, "Dr. X" played the organ with ease and displayed an unusual knowledge of church music, particularly Gregorian music.

THE MOST VIVID IMPRESSIONS WHICH THE MEMORIALS MAN HAS RE- TAINED IN THAT OF A LARGE COLONIAL HOUSE WHICH HE THINKS IS IN THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI AND WHERE HE SPENT HIS CHILDHOOD.

The man, who is apparently between fifty and sixty years old, has eyes of a baffling color. He describes them as being greenish yellow. They are clear and steady. He is five feet, seven inches tall, has dark hair streaked with gray and brushed back from his forehead. His black beard, which is also tinged with gray, is cropped in semi-vandyke style. He said that he should weigh about 145, but that he is now five pounds under weight.

BAD EGG RETURNED VIA AIR, COSTS FIVE POUNDS

Clerk Returns It Open After Mary Tells Him Just How Rotten It Is.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Mary Moloney bought an egg, and it was very, very bad.

It was that kind of an egg the poet mentioned when he said "when it was that kind of an egg" that he had bought.

So Mary took it back to the shop in a cup, put it on the counter under the clerk's nose, and then stood across the shop and told the man she was a peace-loving housewife.

Samuel Caplan, the clerk, didn't like the egg, either, and Mary told the judge he swore something awful, and argued that he picked the egg out himself, and he couldn't be sure.

Mary must have said something else, or the egg must have bothered Sam considerably, for he picked up the cup and returned the egg to the customer, smearing her coat with it.

It had to be cleaned well, and Mary took Sam before the magistrate.

Exhibit A, the egg, wasn't available, but the magistrate had bought the egg himself in the market, and Sam five pounds, of which Mary got two for her expenses of cleaning the coat and damage to her sensibilities.

FRANCE AIDS VISITORS TO GRAVES OF HEROES

PARIS, Jan. 10.—Two hundred Americans visiting the graves of relatives who died while serving in France called during December at the office of the Red Cross Bureau, which offers its services in collaboration with the Graves Registration Service, an omnibus service to remote cemeteries has been undertaken by the bureau. Sleeping accommodations for ten men and ten women have been provided in the cemetery, where the largest number of graves are situated.

SPAIN WARNED TO LET U. S. UNLOAD SHIPS

BARCELONA, Jan. 10.—The American consul, with a merchant marine captain, representing the captains of five American merchantmen in the harbor, here, called on the civil governor yesterday.

They informed him if the American vessels were unable to discharge their cargoes by Monday on account of the strike they would enter an official protest. The vessels have been waiting here eight days.

LOCAL FINANCIAL AND BUSINESS GOSSIP

Branching out into the field of loans on foreign securities, the Riggs National Bank was the only bidder on a $1,000,000 issue of Porto Rican bonds, which were offered by the Porto Rican authorities for consideration.

The bid made by the local bank was considered by War Department officials to be somewhat low and it was decided to refer the offer to the Porto Rican authorities for consideration.

The issue was decided in two parts,
$1,000,000 of which was for public improvement bonds, while the remaining $500,000 was for school bonds.

The bank bid 100.035 and accrued interest to date of delivery on the school bonds, and 80.075 for the $1, 000,000 public improvement bonds.

An alternative bid of 90.285 was also offered for the public improvement bonds.

Various phases of the internal revenue act will be explained by P. H.
Talbert, chairman of the committee on reviews and appeals of the United States Internal Revenue Bureau, to members of the Washington Association of Credit Men at a forum dinner, January 28, at the Franklin Square Hotel. The meeting will be characterized as a "seminar."

Based on an estimated population of 106,650,000 persons in the United States on January 1, 1920, and a total estimated stock of $7,951,330,139 in the country on that date, the per capita circulation was $55.88. This was 13 cents in excess of the per capita circulation on January 1, 1919.

On December 1, 1919, the estimated per capita circulation was $55.65.

The Treasury Department estimates that the general stock of money in the United States on January 1, 1919, was $7,750,753,000.

The Bank of New York, of New York, has just published a pamphlet on the "Financial Status of Belgium," by Louis Ross Gottlieb, which sets forth the debt, revenue and expenditure of Belgium, and the principal principal Belgians in the world war. The article is reprinted from the Quarterly Journal of Economics and is accompanied by introductory remarks by Prof. Edwin R. A. Seligman, of Columbia University.

Professor Seligman characterizes the work as "the most valuable study that has thus far appeared on the public financial condition of Belgium."
